Fall 2020 and Spring 2021 Semester Temporary Grading Policy

As Menlo has shifted from in-person classes and transitioned to distance learning due to the COVID-19 pandemic and in recognition of the challenges this pandemic has generated for students, Menlo College is implementing a temporary grading policy for the Fall 2020 and Spring 2021 semesters.

Professors will assign final course grades as usual. Upon receiving their final course grade, students with a grade of D+ and below in a course can choose instead to receive a “No Credit” grade. Students with a grade C- or above can choose instead to receive a grade of "Credit" instead. The grade change request must be made with the Office of Academic Affairs by January 4, 2021 for the Fall 2020 Semester and May 31, 2021 for the Spring 2021 Semester.

Credit and No Credit grades will not impact student grade point averages (GPA). Credit grades will count as units earned e.g. toward units needed in the major or toward graduation, while No Credit grades will generate no earned units.

Credit/No Credit may generate a variety of consequences, including on a student’s GPA, academic status, financial aid eligibility, and athletic eligibility. It is the student’s responsibility to understand all the effects before making such decisions. We encourage students to consult with their advisor, the financial aid office, and others (e.g. athletic coaches and Veteran’s Affairs Office) before deciding to change grades. If students are applying to graduate school, they should check with the institutions for their policies.

Credit/No Credit grades are excluded from Dean’s List eligibility and do not count toward the twelve-unit requirement for the List. D+, D, D- grades give unit credit and count toward GPA, while a No Credit grade gives no unit credit and does not count towards GPA. If a No Credit grade conversion is selected, the units earned from the letter grade will no longer be counted in the semester or cumulative units earned.

Please note that once the grade change request has been granted, it is irreversible. A student cannot change a Credit/No Credit grade back to a letter grade. A notation will appear on the student’s transcript noting the changed grade policy for this term.
