Congratulations college grad! You achieved your dream because you didn't give in to the obstacles that were in your path.

Many of your classmates, like me, are from Hawai‘i. There is a saying in our native language of Hawai‘i, ‘Umia ka hanu that translates to “Hold the breath! Be patient; persist”. This saying was a traditional war cry to our warriors when times were hard and it seemed like a never ending struggle.

Like our warriors, you persisted! Congratulations,
